Comment: Use this cue card to assist students in learning that good readers take time to think/reflect and connect. We use this to help teach about punctuation and paragraphing as well i.e. periods mark the end of one thought and are a good place to pause and think about the thought conveyed in that sentence. Paragraphs are related thoughts, again a good place to pause. Then we discuss some pauses are very short - others may take us to rereading or looking at additional text features.
